

DAILY APPEAL.

MEMPHIS.

SATURDAY MORNING, FEB. 28, 1857.

THE CABINET.

We have reliable information from a gentleman high in position at Washington City, in which we place great confidence, that the following project of a Cabinet is quite or nearly correct. It is stated that there may be some deviation from these names, but the basis of the Cabinet is substantially accurate. Mr. Walker will not be in the Cabinet unless he is Secretary of State. And if he is not Secretary of State, the probability is that Mr. Cass will be called to the State Department, which will involve a change in the positions of the other gentlemen whose names are mentioned.

The following we think is at least a basis upon which a probable conjecture may rest as to the composition of the most talked of Cabinet:

Mr. J. M. WALKER, New York, Secretary of State.
Mr. J. D. BROWN, Georgia, Secretary of the Treasury.
Mr. J. D. BROWN, Indiana, Secretary of the Interior.
Mr. J. D. BROWN, New York, Secretary of the Navy.
Mr. J. D. BROWN, New York, Secretary of the War.

COL. EDWARD PICKETT, JR.

This gentleman, who was formerly connected in an editorial capacity with this paper, since Editor of the Natchez Free Trader and later Editor and Proprietor of the Vicksburg Sentinel, has retired from the latter journal and announces his intention, in his beautiful and feeling Valedictory, to remove to this city for the purpose of practicing the profession of the law. We most cordially welcome him back to our city where we feel certain his troops of friends will join in wishing him the most successful success in the path he has chosen for himself. As a writer, Mr. Pickett has won a high and extended reputation for the force, boldness and truth of his articles, the vigor and elegance of his style, the high-toned courtesy which he ever exhibited towards political opponents and the mainly candor of his reports. He leaves Vicksburg with the sincere regrets of all parties and especially the Democratic party whose able and faithful champion he was. We trust that Mr. Pickett will find his Valedictory to the readers of the Sentinel as indicating the proud consciousness of rectitude with which he will withdraw from the profession.

In saying these words of parting to all with whom his brief temporary connection with the press has thrown him in intercourse, he has the proud consciousness that he has done no wrong or party intemperance; that he has ever been prompt to correct his errors, and that he has never been guided by the conviction that the most honest and virtuous course was to be his; and that he has, in his editorial labors, while he has never yielded any point which a gentleman should sustain, not compromised any principle which a Democrat should defend.

Col. Pickett is succeeded in the Sentinel by Col. W. WALLACE WOOD, whose fitness for the position is endorsed fully by his predecessor and by the Democracy of Jackson, who he has long and ably represented. We trust that he will maintain the ancient character of the Sentinel for ability and energy, and that he will himself be high in the ranks of the press, as he has been in the ranks of the law.

Col. EDWARD PICKETT, JR.—Our predecessor has spoken his adieu to the Sentinel and his political career has been the hearts of his political opponents as effectively as to render the Editorial staff of this paper. His talents as a writer and an orator, Editor and a champion of his party on the hustings, have commanded universal admiration and commendation. His withdrawal from Editorial life, which he has not been merely an ornament but, eminently useful to the communities that have felt the influence of his vigorous pen, has occasioned profound regret to his many warm friends.

Col. P. designs locating in the city of Memphis, whether he will remove in a few days, resuming the practice of the law, to devote himself to his literary and political avocations. It is unnecessary for us to add, he has our heartfelt wishes for his triumphant success at the bar, which we predict he will achieve.

Accounts from Salt Lake state that BRIGHAM YOUNG is fast declining toward the grave.

Miss ANTONIA JONES, a young Virginia actress, is spoken of in terms of unqualified admiration in articles in the Richmond Enquirer, apparently from the pen of Mrs. MOWAT RICHIE.

At a Democratic meeting held in Perry county, Tenn., for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the State Convention, resolutions were adopted in favor of the Hon. I. G. Harris as the next Democratic candidate for Governor.

SHOCKING MURDER.—A shocking murder was committed at the constable's election at Melville, Allamance county, N. C., on Saturday week. John Smith, a man considerably advanced in life, slain his son-in-law, William Gibson, and afterwards, and caused death in a few minutes. Shaw was committed for trial.

MAIL DELIVERIES ARRESTED.—The Nashville Union, of the 21st inst., says:

In September last, the mails between Memphis and Louisville and between Memphis and Knoxville were severely punished. Carriages and horses were killed at the Holyoke office, but no white person was implicated in the robbery.

COUNTY CANTYVARS.

For the Memphis Appeal.

Masses. Editors: We beg to unite with "Gerritsen" and "Democrat" in recommending W. T. FARLEY as a candidate for the next Legislature. It affords a great pleasure to propose the name of this gentleman to the voters of Shelby, for we know that in so doing we propose the name of a staunch Democrat and a true man. Mr. FARLEY is an intelligent, clear-headed and eminently practical man—just such a one as the interests of Shelby demand. Being a clear, forcible and logical speaker, and well posted on the great political issues of the day, he is well prepared to defend the cause of Democracy, and to repel the attacks of the opposition. It is not merely a slipshod of legislation that we need in a legislator, but rather that we need a man of strong, vigorous, and practical mind; thus being able to understand and do, what he is called upon to do. Mr. FARLEY, we think, is a man of this kind. He is a man of high character, and of high ability, and we think he is a man who will be able to do what he is called upon to do. We think he is a man who will be able to do what he is called upon to do. We think he is a man who will be able to do what he is called upon to do.

COLLIERVILLE.

Masses. Editors: In looking around for suitable candidates to represent Shelby county in the next General Assembly of Tennessee, we would like to propose J. S. They are both men of high character, and of high ability, and we think they are men who will be able to do what he is called upon to do. We think they are men who will be able to do what he is called upon to do. We think they are men who will be able to do what he is called upon to do.
